Council Agrees To Proceed With West End Sewer Extensions

At a recent meeting of the town council, the green light was given to proceed with plans for sewer extensions to the west end of town.

A survey was made some weeks ago by Associated Engineering Services Ltd. and steps are now to be taken to prepare the necessary by-law. After a by-law has been given first reading it will be submitted to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and the Provincial Board of Health for approval. If approval is granted the burgesses will then have opportunity to declare by ballot whether or not they favour the expenditure.

Ted Mackriss was officially appointed as caretaker of the cemetery. Authority was given for installation of lights in the area of the government dock. The Public Works Committee and the secretary were asked to make arrangements for the resumption of work on the unfinished council rooms at the rear of the town hall.

Council voted in favor of taking over ownership of the Memorial Hall as soon as the necessary arrangements can be completed. Ways and means of financing the required improvements to the hall are still being studied.

Young Boys Use Insulators On Power Lines As Sling Shot Targets

Investigations by RCMP have established the cause of several recent power transmission line interruptions west of Edmonton..

Signed statements from four Wildwood, Alberta boys, age 12 to 16 years, indicates that over a period of weeks they have used the insulators on the high voltage power lines as targets for sling shots and rifles.

By persistent effort, over one hundred insulators have been broken, allowing the high voltage lines to flash-over. The lines may then remain out of service until patrols can be made and crews assigned to repair the damage.

The consequences of such vandalism are rarely appreciated by the boys themselves or by their families. Fallen wires may electrocute persons or livestock. Hospitals in Edson, Barrhead and Mayerthorpe are without lights or services. Fire protection is lost in Drayton Valley, Evansburg, Sangudo and Stony Plain through failure of the water supply. Planes flying to and from the north country have no radio range beacon from Whitecourt. Oil well pumping in the Pembina field and major pipeline pumping comes to a standstill. Warning signals fail to function at railway crossings. Ice-cream and meat spoil in refrigerators; gas pumps cannot be operated; printing presses stop; and miners are trapped underground. Almost every home, farm, business and industry is adversely affected.

The major loss is undoubtedly suffered by the customers supplied from the system involved in the transmission line outage. The expense to the power company for aeroplane and land patrols, materials and labor is a sizeable item which unless recovered by prosecution of the parties concerned must be reflected in the rates charged to the customers.

In reducing hazards to life and property alone, you would be performing a real community service by helping to prevent such malicious damage in your own community.

Five Edmontonians Take Rome Trip

EDMONTON — Five young Edmontonians will be among the 30,000 Young Christian Workers who will gather in Rome late this month.

GIVE YOUR HAY this thatched roof protection

Here's the "roof" cut loose and lifted from an Allis-Chalmers rolled bale. Like the curving sheets of a Quonset hut, these curved outer layers of hay protect the layers beneath from rain and snow.

That's why rolled bales give you new insurance against rain-damaged hay, and why some western cattlemen leave the bales right out on the range for winter feeding.

Whether your hay needs this winter-long protection on the range or only temporary safety from summer showers, you will profit from using rolled bales.

Olga Poholski Becomes Bride

The Hylo Gospel Tabernacle, decorated with pink and white lilies, was the setting for the double ring wedding of Miss Olga Poholski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pohalski of Hylo, and Mr. Fred Revega, son of Mr. and Mrs. Revega of Lindberg. Pastor White of Newbrook officiated at the evening ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length gown of nylon over net and satin, with a bodice of lace over satin. She wore a fingertip veil, misting from a tiara of iridescent sequins, and carried a bouquet of red and deep pink roses with a cascade of white ribbons and red rose buds.

Mrs. M. Oachar, aunt of the bride, matron of honor, wore a powder blue lace gown over taffeta, a white stole and accessories of pink. The bridesmaids Miss Doris Revega and Miss Evelyn Poholski were in cocktail-length gowns of pink with white net headdress. They carried nosegays of apple blossoms with rainbow streamers.

Mr. Mike Poholski was best man. Mr. Paul Poholski and Mr. Ray Meardi were ushers.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the Hylo hall which was decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and pink roses. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier cake and bouquets of tiger lilies. The guests tables were decorated with bouquets of pansies and tiger lilies.

Mr. Nickolas Revega proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. White and Bernard Dusnai sang a duet accompanied by Mrs. White on the auto harp.

After a wedding trip to Banff and Sylvan Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Revega will make their home in Newbrook.

Recent visitors at the home of their sister Mrs. G. McEachern were Mr. and Mrs. Selby Thorne and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thorne of Fort Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Thorne of Camrose, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thorne of Edmonton.

Crops Destroyed By Hail Storm

A hail storm passed through the Gullion district, approximately nine miles east of Clyde. There was little wind with it or the damage would have been greater. Rain came down in torrents and crops were demolished on the farms of John Bachmier, Ronnie Drake and the Houg farm.

Gardens were destroyed and hail lay in the ditches. Two days later hail stones were picked up in quantities in the ditches, giving a general idea of the severity of the storm. The storm was small but mighty, coming in from the west off Island Lake.

SENATOR WANTS CANCER LABEL ON CIGARETTE PACKAGES

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, a non-smoker introduced a bill to require that each package of cigarets carry the "warning" that proloned use could cause cancer.

The Utah Republican, in a brief speech, said "cigaret smoking is the nation's number one health problem." Compared to the dangers of cigaret smoking, he said, "the highly - publicized hazards from atomic radiation fallout are negligible."

"Perhaps we should be devoting more of our efforts to producing a 'clean' cigaret rather than a 'clean' bomb," he said.

His proposed "warning" label would read: "Prolonged use of this product may result in cancer, in lung, heart and circulatory ailments, and in other diseases."

He said it would have the effect of repeating the warning over and over again "just as are the advertising message of cigaret manufacturers."

He stressed that his bill "would not prevent anyone from smoking. It would merely make certain that anyone who smokes does so fully aware of the dangers involved."

THE Homemaker

By Doris Montalbetti

How Does Your Jelly Rate?

A good jelly is clear sparkling and beautiful in color. It holds its shape when removed from molds, yet is so tender in texture that it cuts easily with a spoon and is firm enough that the angle thus produced retains its shape.

Pectin sugar and acid are necessary to make jelly and they must be the proper proportion. Such fruits as sour apples, crabapples, currants, gooseberries, cranberries, raspberries, plums and grapes usually contain sufficient of the three elements to be good jelly making fruits.

However, with the packaged and bottled pectins now on the market, the jelly-maker can cut down and retain more flavor and color of the fresh fruit as well as get more jelly from the fruit at hand. So, it is considered wiser to use a commercial pectin than to boil the fruit juice for any long period of time.

A word of caution here—when using pectin, follow the instructions on the bottle to the letter of the law. Don't increase the amounts or double the recipes. Especially sugar—it is always better to add too little sugar. Too much gives a syrupy or sticky consistency, too little, a tough or rubbery jelly.

A tough product can be obtained with too little pectin and boiling too long.

Weeping occurs in jellies made from cranberries, currants and other fruits high in acid. Be sure these fruits are not under ripe.

Cloudiness may result from imperfect straining. Restrain juice you wish to make into clear jelly. You may make a second extraction from the fruit mass by squeezing out the juice for jelly used in jelly rolls where appearance is not important.

Failure to jell is caused by improper balance of pectin, sugar and acid. Overcooking may destroy so much pectin that a gummy mass is formed instead of jelly. Undercooking may cause failure to jell because of too much water.

It's Apricot Time Again

Apricots, which date back to the days of the ancient Persians are extremely delicate, avoid buying those that are soft to the touch or have a wilted or shriveled look about them. Such fruit decays quickly and lacks good flavor.

Besides flavor, apricots are an excellent source of Vitamin A. Two small ones can give about one-third the normal daily requirement.

Apricots are an easy fruit to preserve. Wash, halve and pit and blanch one or two minutes. Pack in jars, add syrup and process for 20 minutes. Some prefer to simmer them in syrup three minutes before packing to prevent discoloration. If your canned apricots have a tendency to float in the jars it is either because the syrup is too heavy or you had too loose a pack to begin with. Over-ripe fruit floats from the bottom of the jar and over-processing can cause floating too.

If you have never made apricot jam with almonds you've got a treat awaiting. Don't forget some lemon juice to bring out the flavor of the jam.

JEWELS, RINGS, REACTORS AND PRAYER

LOOKING FOR $50,000 IN GEMS—When a fire destroyed a building in Philadelphia housing the city's Diamond Centre, employees of six jewelry firms fled, leaving behind, among other valuables, $50,000 in diamonds in safes and filing cabinets. Search for the jewels, many uncut stones, continued after this safe was found buried in debris. The safe, however, was empty when opened by insurance and city detectives.

ABUNDANT LIFE
BY ORAL ROBERTS

62-Year-Old Man Finds "The Best Way of Life"

Andrew and his friend were following Jesus from the River Jordan where John was baptizing converts. Jesus turned and asked them this question. What seek ye?

I ask you the same question: "What are you seeking? What are you looking for in life?" Naturally, you will answer, "I want to be happy."

The next question that would follow is this: "What will it take to make you happy?" And there our ways begin to divide. Some will say that to be popular is important, to others, a success in athletics, someone else will wish riches and another will seek fame. But again—granted that all of these things were yours, would you be truly happy? I think not!

All these "things" can contribute to your happiness, and whatever is right and honorable is certainly in order for you. I believe that God is pleased whenever you achieve anything worthwhile in your life. But there is something that is prerequisite, something that is the real basis of happiness and everything else built upon it.

Jesus said, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things that he possesseth, for life is more than meat, and body more than raiment. But if you seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; all these things shall be added unto you."

May I tell you my outlook upon God and the relationship that he wishes for us in connection with the "things" that might be suggested that bring happiness?

I believe that God is glad for us to have the "things" that will bring satisfaction. Why not? Can you think of any legitimate reason why health, strength, food, shelter, finance, joy, and achievement of any honorable goal would offend a father who really loves his children?

But the first necessity is TO REALLY KNOW JESUS CHRIST. When you get acquainted with him; when you accept him as your partner in life; you have entered the real realm of happiness You have opened the door and stepped into Abundant Life.

Read what Mr. G. P. of Coolidge, Mexico, has to say about this.

"I had an incurable heart condition and the second attack had almost taken my life. My doctor told me that I was living on borrowed time and asked me if I was prepared to go. I also suffered from stomach ulcers.

"We attended your campaign in Long Beach, California. The second night of the meeting I knelt at my seat and repeated the sinner's prayer. A feeling that is indescribable came over me. I found healing for both soul and body! I am 62 years old. After all these years I have found the best way of life."

Friends, life turns right-side up when you meet Jesus Christ. Try it. It works!
